Activity Ideas:

grab a handful of change and ask her to count it miscount a handful of change and ask her if you are correct have her create a design or pattern with coins and ask her to add it all up have her create labels for play kitchen foods with “prices” and set up a pretend store buy things from her store using real or plastic coins show her how many coins you have and ask if you have enough to buy something from her if you don't have enough money, ask her how much more money you need to get if you overpay for something, have her make change for you tell her an amount of money and have her make it with real or plastic coins tell her an amount of money and ask her to show two or more ways to make it coin stamps are really useful for the main lesson book:
